WILSON MAY WITHDRAW NEGRO'S APPOINTMENT

Washington, July 30.—The nomination of Adam E. Patterson of Muskogee, a negro, for the position of Registrar of the Treasury has started a fight by Southern Democratic Senators that it is expected will result in the withdrawal of the nomination by the president. Patterson came to Washington to press his case and visited the White House today, but failed to see either the president or Secretary Tumulty.

Senator Gore has been credited with having recommended Patterson, but the Oklahoma Senator says this is not the case. Patterson was urged upon President Wilson by National Committeeman Hudspeth of New Jersey, who had charge of the negro campaign work during the Democratic campaign. Senator Gore says he opposed the creation of the negro campaign bureau during the campaign and opposed granting money for that work out of the campaign funds. He says he has always recommended the appointment of an Indian from Oklahoma for the position, but that when the President expressed his intention to name Patterson he consented.

Inasmuch as this place heretofore has been filled by negroes, some democratic senators recommended Patterson for the place in view of his political service in campaigning for the democratic ticket in Northern states. So great, however, has been the protest from democrats in various states that Patterson's original backers in the senate are now announcing their opposition to his confirmation.

It is reported that the water pressure in the well is so great as to give them considerable trouble, however they expect to have everything in good operation in a few days.—Stonewall News.

Take a little SODA for your Stomach's Sake

This advice certainly holds good with everyone this sort of weather

Soda served at our fountain is more than a tasty thirst-quenching beverage. It is tonic and refreshing and every glass a strengthener for the stomach.

Our Soda is absolutely pure, strengthening, reviving, refreshing and healthful. It "lands direct" on the "dry" spot and quenches thirst as nothing else will, because we serve it at just the right temperature.

THINK A CLUE IS FOUND

POSSIBILITY OF DISCOVERING MURDERER OF FLORENCE BROWN AT DALLAS.

Dallas, Tex., July 31.—The developments of this afternoon make us more hopeful of the solution of the case than at any other time since Miss Brown's body was found.

Such was the statement made late yesterday by Chief of Detectives Henry Tanner. It was intimated in some quarters that an arrest might be made today. Further than the statement quoted the officer would not commit himself, but in his face and demeanor there were evidences of confidence and a slight, yet easily perceptible feeling of assurance that success might be near.

This is considered the most important development of the relentless search being made for the slayer of the young lady stenographer, whose mutilated body was found shortly after 9 o'clock Monday morning in the lavatory and vault room of the real estate office of Robinson & Styron, 110 Field street. While still clouded in mystery, the solution of the one question now seems a little nearer than at any time since the commission of the crime.

The officers admit this new line of endeavor to unravel the most mysterious murder Dallas has known may prove to be like others which at first showed promise of important developments only to end finally just where they began—with nothing accomplished. However, it is believed there is greater promise of real results now than ever.

One of the most tangible and possibly important piece of information given by anyone in connection with conditions about the office where the murder was committed during the period between the time Miss Brown arrived at the office and the finding of her body was given by A. M. Vaughn, real estate dealer, with offices on the same side of Field street and just a few doors north of the Robinson & Styron place of business.

This statement describes the appearance of a man Mr. Vaughn saw standing in the front office less than twenty minutes before the girl's body was found.

Mr. Vaughn, accompanied by his wife, left the inbound Interurban car, due in Dallas at 8:30 o'clock, at the intersection of Field and Commerce streets, between 8:40 and 8:45 o'clock, the car being just a few minutes behind schedule time. Mr. Vaughn said: "As we passed Robinson & Styron's office I looked in, and the only person I saw there was a man standing at a little telephone table. This man had his face turned toward the south and about at an angle of forty-five degrees from the front door.

"I did not pay a great deal of attention to his appearance, but I am impressed that he was clean shaven, wore either a dark alpaca or blue serge coat, with lighter colored trousers, and that he had a stiff sailor hat on.

"I would not make this statement unless I was absolutely sure what I was talking about."

Mr. Vaughn said he had occasion to peer into the office by reason of the fact that Miss Brown had typed some papers for him Saturday afternoon and it was to go over these papers that Mrs. Vaughn accompanied him to town Monday morning. He was positive about the exact time that he passed along in front of Robinson & Styron's office and as to other details related. Miss Brown's body was found according to other witnesses, about nine minutes after 9 o'clock.

Protest Against Rate Increase.

Springfield, Ill., July 31.—Representatives of the 150 local branches of the Tribe of Ben Hur in Illinois assembled in convention here today to make formal protest against the decision of the head officers of the organization, which is a fraternal insurance society with a large membership in the middle West, to increase the rates of assessment. It is probable that the protest will be followed by a court action to restrain the head officers from putting their plans into effect.

MAY BE NO ELECTION TUESDAY

Oklahoma City, Ok., July 30.—District Judge John Carpey today granted a temporary injunction against the State Election Board and election boards of all the counties submitting at the special election on Aug. 5 the constitutional amendment reducing the State Board of Agriculture from eleven to five members. Date for hearing on the merits has not been fixed and late today copies of the court's order had not been served.

The last consignment of ballots and election supplies were ready for consignment from the Election Board's office this afternoon and in absence of the legal notice to the secretary the ballots would go forward.

Senator Campbell Russell, author of the amendment which was adopted by the Fourth Legislature and approved by Gov. Cruce, laid the case before the Attorney General, but it has not been decided whether application is to be made to the District Court for rehearing or to force the issues by appeal to the supreme court.

Senator Russell says the injunction

If you Value Your Eyesight see An Expert Optometrist I have spent 20 years preparing myself to perfect the refraction of the eye. My modern equipment, backed by this long experience, is your Guarantee of Satisfaction. A.D. Coon, Ramsey Drug Co., Ada, Ok.

was granted without notice to the state or himself as an interested party. He declares that unless definite action is taken by tomorrow he will apply to the supreme court for a writ of prohibition against the district court.

It was contended tonight by Senator Russell that under wording of the court's order the entire election would be held up, since all of the state questions appear upon one ballot sheet, and if the injunction is sustained it would operate to prevent distribution of the ballots.

Application was made for the injunction by members of the Board of Agriculture, claiming that forty days do not intervene between the time the resolution was adopted by the legislature and the date of its submission to the people, as required by law. It is also claimed that the ballot title is defective. But two members of the Supreme Court are in the city.

MANY DEATHS FROM HEAT ARE REPORTED

Chicago, Ill., July 30.—Midsummer heat killed thirty-five persons, twenty-five adults and ten infants; prostrated more than sixty, brought temperatures as high as 104 in some cities and made the 100 degree mark common through a wide area today.

Philadelphia leads the death list, with ten, with a maximum temperature of 95 degrees. Many persons are reported prostrated. Louisville, Ky., with four deaths, several prostrations and a thermometer reading of 101.3, and New York with a like number of fatalities, twelve felled by the heat and a temperature of 98, vie with each other for second place. Detroit reported three dead, four prostrated and a temperature of 98. Cleveland, where only 92 degrees was reported, two adults and ten babies died during the day and twenty were prostrated. Zanesville and Columbus, O., each reported one dead. At Columbus two were prostrated and the mercury reached 97 degrees. At Cincinnati, where the government thermometer registered 101 1-2, twenty-one persons were unable to withstand the rays of the sun.

Generally described, the heat wave extended from the Rocky Mountains to the Atlantic Coast, but the maximum temperatures were reported from points between Kansas and Ohio.

Southern Illinois got the full blast of the heat. At Carleburg it was 106, and at Peoria 104. Burlington, Ia., also reported a temperature of 106.

Over Missouri, Illinois, Eastern Ia., and Southwest Ohio the heat generally was about the 100 mark.

Chicago had relatively cool weather the maximum being 89. The condition was relieved by brisk winds.

Special Officer Ed Brents arrived Wednesday evening to be present at the graduating exercises of the normal this evening, his son Max being one of the graduates.

The Muskogee Times-Democrat defends the appointment of the negro Patterson as register of the treasury, saying that since it is going to a negro anyway, Patterson is about the most deserving of the race. He helped materially in the last campaign and the T-D. sees no reason for fighting his appointment.

Although the inspectors in the clean town contest may drop around any time after today, there is no reason for slowing up on the work of cleaning up. It may possibly be a week or more before they arrive and it is also possible that there will be a second round of the inspectors. Keep the good work moving.

The action of the present board of agriculture in holding up the special election of August 5 is about the rankiest thing that has happened in Oklahoma for many a day. Although there has been ample time to test the matter in the courts before now, these fellows who dislike the prospect of losing their jobs, waited until the ballots were ready for distribution before bringing injunction proceedings. If the injunction stands there will be no election for the reason that all the questions are printed on one ballot and it is now too late to print another ballot leaving this question off. The News has heretofore taken little stock in the various scraps involving this board, but when men would prevent the people of the state from voting on several questions of vital importance simply because they want to hold their jobs we must enter a most emphatic protest.

Landrum to Resign.

Oklahoma City, July 31.—George A. Landrum, who has been assistant state superintendent for the past two years, announced today that he will resign to take effect September 1, and will engage in other work, becoming identified with one of the book companies. Mr. Landrum was a teacher of elocution in the Weatherford normal prior to being appointed assistant state superintendent by R. H. Wilson.

Mr. Landrum will probably be succeeded by E. A. Duke of Newkirk, superintendent of public instruction of Kay county. Mr. Landrum has contemplated resigning for some time, but had not decided what time to make the resignation effective.

IN PRISON 39 YEARS

HE PLANS TO ESCAPE

Boston, July 30.—Jesse Harding Pomeroy, the notorious murderer who for thirty-nine years has been confined within prison walls, recently planned another escape; according to Charleston prison officials. Guards found a long steel spike and a piece of tin in Pomeroy's cell a few days ago. When questioned he would only say that he found the articles while he was exercising in the prison yard. Pomeroy has made several attempts to escape. A year ago by using a piece of tin, he succeeded in cutting his way out of the cell but was captured in the corridor.

N. B. PITT AND BRIDE

ARRIVE IN DENISON

N. B. Pitt, son of Rev. T. W. Pitt of Denison, arrived in the city Tuesday night from a weeks' tour with his bride, who was Miss Blanche Cole of Ada, Okla. The couple were united in marriage a week ago in Ada, by the Rev. M. A. Cassidy.

The bride is one of the most popular young women of Ada, and the groom is well known in Denison, having lived here all his life. He is a brakeman in the employ of the M. & K. & T. They will make their home in Denison.—Denison Herald.

This evening the Airdome will present as an extra attraction a first class vaudeville act by the noted Ringolds. These talented people have won the applause of their audiences wherever they have gone and will do the same here. Two good pictures will complete the program of the evening.

Preparation for Knowledge.

No man can learn what he has not prepared for learning, however near to his eyes is the subject. A chemist may tell his most precious secrets to a carpenter, and he shall be never the wiser—the secrets he would not utter to a chemist for an estate. . . . Our eyes are hidden that we can not see things that stare us in the face until the hour arrives when the mind is ripened; then we behold them, and the time when we saw them not is like a dream.—Emerson.

TREASURER SAYS SCHOOL FUND LITTLE REDUCED

County Treasurer Erwin informs the News that the cut in the estimate for the support of the Ada public schools made by the county excise board, is not as much as appeared at first. Although the board cut off $1,215 he states that the increase in the funds from state and county will amount to about $750 above that of the previous year. The July apportionment just made is $1.23 per capita as against 95c for last year and the January apportionment is usually more than the one for July. Besides this the salary of $150 for the treasurer of the school board was cut off, thus making a difference of $900, or $315 below the amount asked for by the school board.

Alexander H. Stephens as a Lawyer.

In his own profession of the law, Alexander H. Stephens' fine intellectual sincerity stands out fully, and well proves that success requires neither dishonesty nor huffing. "What business do you follow, Alex?" said his uncle to him in the early days. "I am a lawyer." After an ominous silence the uncle spoke again. "Alex, don't you have to tell lies?" Alex did not have to tell lies. Hear what he says, reviewing his career in old age: "No advocate should ever assert as matter of fact in his client's case what he knows is not such; any code of morals justifying him in this does not deserve the name." And again, more personally, "My rule from the time I was admitted to the bar was: First, to investigate a case submitted to me, to inquire into the facts and the law applicable to it; then, if I did not believe the party entitled to success before the court I told him so, and declined to appear."—Gamaliel Bradford Jr. in The Atlantic.

SUFFRAGISTS IN BIG DEMONSTRATION

Washington, D. C., July 31.—The second big demonstration that the advocates of woman suffrage have held in the national capital this year took place today and was carried out far more successfully than the similar demonstration and parade held last March on the eve of the inauguration of President Wilson. The chief object of the demonstration today was to present petitions to the senate asking that body to pass immediately a constitutional amendment enfranchising women all over the country.

The demonstration was participated in by delegations of suffragists from many states. The delegations rendezvoused during the forenoon at Hyattsville, Md., where they were officially greeted by the Washington suffragists and escorted into this city in automobiles. At Hyattsville there was a program of speechmaking in the public park and the raising of a suffrage flag.

Upon arrival in the capital the parade of automobiles proceeded south on 14th street to Pennsylvania avenue, and then on to the Capitol. The presentation of the petitions to the senate was accompanied by brief addresses delivered by several of the national leaders of the equal suffrage movement.

Misses Margareta and Beatrice Black arrived from Wapanucka Wednesday afternoon to attend the graduating exercises of the normal. The first name dis a member of the graduating class.

Where Do You Shop?

Do you shop in a brisk, active store, or in a dull store? Advertising makes bright stores. Failure to advertise goes hand in hand with dullness and stagnation.

Advertising brushes away cobwebs and dust, smartens windows, quickens the intelligence of salesman, and lets in the sunlight.

Advertising makes the merchant think of you—of your wants and needs; makes him anxious to serve you to your liking and advantage.

Advertising keeps stock form having birthdays.

Advertising acquaints you with new things, and so brightens your home, your life, your person.

Advertising keeps a business from growing lazy and stupid. Advertising injects good red blood into the arteries of business, and keeps it healthful and active.

Smile back at the shop which smiles at you. Shake hands with it—keep company with it—your favor will be returned to you tenfold.

PROTRACTED MEETING AT DAGGS PLACE

This is to show the people that we have a protracted meeting every night in Wallace Daggs picnic grounds one mile west of Ada on Center road. Christ says "Go preach the gospel and heal the sick," so for over 15 years we have been preaching. We preached the gospel of Jesus Christ clear around the world, starting from Wewoka, Okla., in 1908, through America to England, Ireland, France, Italy, Sicily, Africa, Arabia, Palestine, at Jerusalem, Turkey, Persia, India, China, Japan, back to California. Now we are preaching the everlasting gospel and healing the sick. God is giving us a good meeting and healing the sick. As James says, 5th chapter, "the prayer of faith shall save the sick and if they have committed sins they shall be forgiven them." So we invite all sick people and all others to come out until Sunday night. J. D. Bryant and Band.

FUNERAL AND INTERMENT OF JUDGE S. HEARD

The body of Judge S. Heard arrived Wednesday morning at 11:35, being accompanied by Miss Catherine Heard, daughter of the deceased. At 5:30 an impressive service was held at the home of N. T. Heard by Rev. J. B. Nelson, after which the body was followed to Rosedale cemetery by a large concourse of friends. Most of the family of the deceased arrived in time for the funeral.

At a bar meeting held at the court house Wednesday morning a number of touching eulogies were delivered by members of the local bar, and practically all were present at the services and interment.

A. G. Allen's Big Minstrels

A. G. Allen's Big Minstrels gave a performance in their canvas theatre at the corner of Fourth and Court streets last night. The tent was packed and many were turned away because there was no more room. The idea of presenting a minstrel performance under canvas is quite original, and judging from the crowd last night we judge that it is a paying venture. The tent is arranged with stage scenery and curtains the same as an opera house.

The performance as a whole was meritorious. The sayings and gags were all very good, as well as the choruses, ballads and other singing. The orchestra was also good. In the olio, the male electrical dance, the "Black Eighth Regiment," the terpsichorean artists and "Pastimes of the Levee" were amusing, and the rip-roaring farce presented as a finale was a highly ludicrous and mirth-provoking piece of extravagance.—Memphis Commercial-Appeal.

BALLOT IS FEET LONG AT NEW YORK ELECTION

New York, July 30.—The fourteen foot ballot which came in for so much ridicule during the election primaries last fall, has been outdone by one eighteen feet long which will be used in the democratic primaries in the Twenty-third assembly district here this fall.

There is no press in New York big enough to take the ballots at a single impression. They will have to be printed in six-foot sections and pasted together like circus bills.

DECALOGUE OF GOOD HEALTH

A decalogue of health has been adopted which is worthy of emulation in every community, large or small, in the state. The ten commandments are as follows:

"I. Remember thy garbage can to keep it covered; every day shalt thou fill it and then shall the scavenger empty it, lest thy garbage become a stench to the nostrils of thy neighbor.

"II. Thou shalt cut the weeds on thy vacant lot lest it become a hiding place for old tin cans, papers and divers sorts of trash.

"III. Thou shalt plant many trees, for the sun will smite thee if thou sitest not in the shade; thou shalt also plant flowers and shrubs that thy habitation may be lovely in the eyes of men.

"IV. Thou shalt clean out the habitation of thy horse and thy cow frequently, lest the stable fly flourish and spread infantile paralysis and other death-dealing diseases.

"V. Thou shalt starve the fly in the spring, that thy children unto the third and fourth generation shall not smite him later.

"VI. Thou shalt build a sidewalk upon the ground before thy house that thy man servant, the stranger and the book agent bog not in the mud thereof.

"VII. Thou shalt not harm thy neighbor's garden, thou, nor thy dog, nor thy cat, nor thy hen that is without thy gate.

"VIII. Look thou not upon the milk when it cometh from an unclean dairy, for the doctor will not hold thee guiltless if thy infant sickeneth therefrom.

"IX. Verily, verily, thou shalt clean thy house thoroughly, wisely and often that germ-breeding dust shall not accumulate to afflict thee and thy husband and thy child and the stranger that liveth in the next block.

"X. Verily thou shalt vote for men who have the health of thy city at heart and who will pass laws amply providing for thy city's sanitation, to ensure thy health and thy children's health and the health of the stranger thou knowest not; for verily if the stranger within thy city's boundaries is afflicted with grievous disease because of thy carelessness, the flies and other vermin will visit thee and his affliction shall become thy children's and thine own. But if thou wilt not do thy duty and clean thy premises and compel thy neighbor to clean his premises then shalt thou live long and happily in thy city and thy children with thee."

FRANCIS

The two inches of rain that fell here Thursday evening and the light cotton shower that we got Saturday are making everything look promising. This is the first rain of any note since the first of last May.

W. H. Hammond was appointed Justice of the peace for the town of Francis by the County Commissioners last Thursday and has moved his office from the Norman building to Begg building on Main Street.

The Dave Lance case was continued last Friday until the 25th of next month.

Business on the Frisco is increasing and it is so large that a very large per cent of the men have been put back to work.

A $2,000 fund has been raised by the business men of Francis and farmers around it to erect a gin in this city. It is to be a four stand gin and all the machinery will be new and up to date.

We regret very much that the early morning train from Ada will be pulled off the first of August for we could go north early and attend to our business and return on the evening train.

Thos. J. Cross, Editor of the Wigwam, spent Monday and Tuesday in Sasakwa looking after the interest of his paper.

L. R. Clark, editor of the Star-Democrat, moved his family to Ada Monday. Since the president has appointed the Muskogee negro it may be so that some honest whit democrat will be blessed.

The city officials have men at work at the power house improving the system. We hope that the plant will be put up in first class shape and that the whole system will be a grand success.

MAJESTIC THEATRE

WILL OPEN SATURDAY

Manager Ward has about completed the work of renovating the Majestic theatre. The front has been painted in beautiful imitation of marble, the interior has also been painted, and most important of all, a metal booth enclosing the moving picture machine has been installed, thus removing all chance of fire. At a second's notice every opening is closed and the fire confined inside and smothered out, if one should by any chance be started.

The Majestic will reopen for business Saturday.

THE Melting of Molly

By MARIA THOMPSON DAVIESS

Copyright, 1912, by the Bobbs-Merrill Company

SYNOPSIS

The teller of the story, Molly Carter, a young widow, awaiting the return of Al Bennett, an old flame, who is now a distinguished diplomat, tries to reduce weight. Her physician, adviser and next door neighbor is Dr. John, a widower and father of young Billy, whom Molly loves.

Molly is surprised at play with Billy by Judge Wade, who is the most dignified and able man in Hillsboro. Billy comes over from next door with his father.

Hillsboro receives a visit from Ruth Chester, a friend of Bennett, and Molly finds her delightful. Molly goes to the city for an outfit of clothing.

Molly has trouble in reducing her weight. Billy's singing of an old love song about "Molly" under her window brings tears to her eyes.

She flirts with Tom Pollard, her cousin, who is a "ladies' man." She decides to re-enter Hillsboro society by giving a dinner. The doctor catches her eating forbidden jam.

Dr. John and Molly pay a visit to one of his patients, a young mother. She doesn't know whom she really wants to marry, but thinks she will accept Bennett. Tom invites Molly to a dance.

Of all Molly's dances the one with Dr. John pleases her most. Preparations for the dinner are under way. Bennett is almost due in Hillsboro. Billy eats too much and becomes sick.

At the dinner, which is a great success, Molly receives a telegram from Bennett asking permission to come to Hillsboro immediately.

Judge Wade sends Molly a love letter, which Molly thinks is too long and formal. Billy tells Molly he and his father are going to Europe. Molly disputes the doctor's right to part her and Billy.

He held me gently for a half second, and then with a sob which I felt rather than heard, he crushed me to him and stopped my breath with his lips on mine. I understood things then that I never had before, and I felt that wise guardian man angel take his fingers from mine and leave me safe at last. I raised my hand and pressed it against John's wet lashes until he could let me speak, and I was melted into his very breast itself.

"Molly," he said when enough tenderness had come back into his arms to let me breathe, "you have almost killed me!"

"You!" I exclaimed, crowding still closer, or at least trying to. "It's not you, it's I that am killed, and you did it! I know you don't really want me, but I can't help that. I'd rather you'd do the suffering with me than to do it myself away from you. I'm so hungry and thirsty for you that—that I can't diet any longer!" I put the case the strongest way I knew how and got a swooning, maddening, luscious result.

"Want you, Molly?" he almost sobbed, and I felt his heart pounding hard next to my shoulder.

"Yes, want me!" I answered, with more spirit than breath left in me. "I refuse to believe you are as stupid as I am, and anybody with even an ordinary amount of brains must have seen how hard I was fighting for you. I feel sure I left no stone unturned. Some of them I can already think back and see myself tugging at and it makes me hot all over. I'm foolish and always was, so I'm to be excused for acting that awful way, but you are to blame for letting me do it. I'm going to be your punishment for life for not having been stern and stopped me. You had better stop me some now anyway, for if I go on loving you as I have been for the last few minutes it will make you uncomfortable."

"Peaches," he said after he had brushed me with another broken dose of love as large as he thought I could stand—I could have stood more!—"I am never going to tell you how long I have loved you, but that day you came to me all in a flutter with Al Bennett's letter in your hand it is going to take you a lifetime to settle for. You were mine—and Billy's! How could you—but women don't understand!" I felt him shudder in my arms as I held him close. I was repaid for all those tiresome exercises I had taken by the strength to crush him against my breast almost as hard as he crushed me. Our combined strength was terrific, dangerous to life and ribs, but heavenly.

"Don't women know, John?" I managed to ask softly in memory of a like question he had put to me across that bread and jam with the rose a-listening from the dark.

What brought me to consciousness was his fumbling with the buttons at the waist of that blue muslin relict of a sentiment. I had fastened but one, and the lace had got caught on his sleeve buttons.

"Please don't button me into his possession," I laughed under his chin. "I'm still scared to death of him, and you haven't hid me yet!"

"Molly," he asked, this time with a heaven laugh, "where could you be more effectually hid from Al Bennett than in my arms?"

I spent ten minutes telling Billy what a hippopotamus really looks like as I put him to bed, but later, much as I should have liked to, I couldn't consume that horrible dinner that I had helped prepare at the Johnsons' in the shelter of John's arms, and I had to face Alfred. Ruth Chester was there, and she faced him too.

A man that can't be happy with a woman who is willing to "fulfill his destiny" doesn't deserve to be.

Then we came over here, and John had the most beautiful time persuading Aunt Aline how a good man like Mr. Carter would want his young widow to be taken care of by being married to a safe friend of his instead of being flighty and having folks wondering whom she would marry.

"You know yourself how hard a time a beautiful young widow has, Mrs. Henderson," he said in the tone of voice that always makes his patients glad to take his worst doses. He got his blessing and me—with a warning.

A lovely night wind is blowing across my garden and bringing me congratulations from all my flower family. Flowers are a part of love and the wooing of it, and they understand. I am waiting for the light to go out behind the tall trees over which the moon is stealthily sinking. He promised me to put it out right away, and I'm watching the glow that marks the place where my own two men creatures are going to rest, with my heart in full song.

He needs rest, he is so very tired and worn. He confessed it as I stood on the step above him tonight after he had taken his own good night from me out on the porch. When he explained to me how his agony over me for all these months had kept him walking the floor night after night, not knowing that I was waiting for the light to go out, I gave myself a sweetness that I am going to say a prayer for the last thing before I sleep.

I took his head in my arms and pressed his cheek down against Billy's sleep place on my breast over my heart and put my lips to that drake tail kiss spot that has tempted me for I won't say how long. Then I fled, and so did he. I had about decided to burn this book, because I shan't need it any longer, for he says he and Billy and I are going to play so much golf and tennis that I shall keep as thin as he wants me to be without any more melting or freezing or starving, but perhaps he would like to read the little red devil. Do you suppose he would?

THE END.

Newport's Mother Goose Ball.

Newport, R. I., July 31.—Newport society is on tiptoe in anticipation of the Nursery Rhyme and Mother Goose ball which Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish is to give tomorrow night at her palatial summer home. The Crossways. The ball has been heralded as quite the most novel and elaborate function of its kind that Newport has seen in years. Amid a picturesque scene that will recall all the favorite epics of Mother Goose and the other literature of the nursery twelve professional dancers will appear at the ball dressed as Jacks and Jills, Little Jack Horners, Little Red Riding Hoods and other well known characters that figure in the library of childhood.

ALLEN NEWS.

R. E. Brians drove over from Ada the latter part of last week.

W. A. Leonard returned home from a pleasure trip to Bromide Saturday.

W. W. Drake, who has been visiting his brother at McCloud, came home Friday.

The advertising car of Kit Carson's Wild West Show came in Sunday and is advertising this big show for August 11. It seems as though this show is on its way from Muskogee to Durant, and according to law they must unload and feed their livestock after so many hours, and for this reason Allen will be permitted to see a show that does not often stop in so small a town.

This vicinity has been visited by two good rains during the past week. Last Thursday there was a two-inch rain and on Saturday there was another two inches. This rain will be a great help to late corn and insures a bountiful crop of cotton. If the farmers go to work and put in late crops there can be plenty of feed stuff raised yet.

The men who have been working on the oil derrick one mile west of town expect to complete it by the first of the week and the drilling will be started at once. The first oil well will be drilled on the Banks Robertson farm and it is hoped that an abundant supply of oil will be struck.

The Farmers and Merchants Gin Co. have commenced to build their gin and it will be rapidly pushed toward completion. It is located near the water tower and will be accessible to the farmers from all parts of the country. Dr. C. M. Means made a business trip to Ada Monday.

Coy Long and family are visiting relatives in Keota, Okla.

Dr. W. C. Threlkeld returned from a trip to Ada the latter part of last week.

R. Y. Blackwell, editor of the Calvin Enterprise, filled the pulpit at the Methodist church here Sunday.

County Clerk Mathis has issued the following marriage licenses during the past week: Earnest Inlow and Ola Johnson of Citra; Jesse Dodson and Ella Cash of Hughes Co.; and Pink Turner and Mary Mouser of Gerty.

Allen will soon be on a boom from all appearances. A bumper cotton crop is now assured and good prices will be obtained for it. The Farmers Gin will be completed in time to get its share of ginning. With this gin there will be four cotton gins located here, and that ought to be sufficient to take care of many thousand bales of cotton. The oil excitement is now at its height and the operators seem to think that there are the best prospects here that they have struck. If oil is obtained in the well one mile west of town, it will certainly be a boost for Allen and the town will grow rapidly so it is a good time now for all investors and promoters to get in on the ground floor. Another addition to Allen is the handsome, new Methodist church which has recently been completed. It is a credit to a town many sizes larger than Allen and it will also have a great part in influencing people to come here to live. Nothing builds up a good town like schools and churches and Allen has them both. Come investigate, invest and be a booster for Allen.
